

Shipbuilding Caucus Web Site Launched

WASHINGTON -- After a year-long hiatus, the Congressional Shipbuilding Caucus has launched a new Web site that will feature news, links and information for caucus members to stay informed.

Please check back in the future as the caucus updates the Web site with information on meetings and events beginning in January 2009. If you have any questions or comments about the caucus or would like to encourage your Representative to join, please contact us.