

Taylor, Davis to Participate in Defense Media Breakfast

WASHINGTON, DC (May 19, 2005) - Congressional Shipbuilding Caucus co-founders, Congressman Gene Taylor (D-MS) and Congresswoman Jo Ann Davis (R-VA), will participate in a defense media breakfast hosted by the publishers of Defense Today on Thursday, May 19th, 2005, at 10 AM.

WASHINGTON, DC (May 19, 2005) - Congressional Shipbuilding Caucus co-founders, Congressman Gene Taylor (D-MS) and Congresswoman Jo Ann Davis (R-VA), will participate in a defense media breakfast hosted by the publishers of Defense Today on Thursday, May 19th, 2005, at 10 AM.

Following brief remarks, Taylor and Davis will participate in an open forum question-and-answer session with members of the press who cover defense-related issues. In addition to shipbuilding related topics, Taylor and Davis are expected to discuss today's House Armed Services Committee mark-up of the FY2006 National Defense Authorization Act and the Department of Defense recommendations for base realignment and closure.

Congressman Taylor represents the Fourth District of Mississippi, home to Naval Station Pascagoula, Keesler Air Force Base, and Camp Shelby. Taylor is a senior member of the House Armed Services Committee and the ranking member of the House Armed Services Projection Forces Subcommittee. He also serves on the House Armed Services Readiness Subcommittee.

Congresswoman Davis, whose district includes Yorktown Naval Weapons Station, Cheatham Annex Naval Station, Fort AP Hill, Quantico and Dahlgren, represents the First District of Virginia. She is a member of the House Armed Services Committee and serves on the House Armed Services Military Personnel and Projection Forces Subcommittees.
